TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

We the above mentioned company are currently in the process of installing European Windows - doors and windows on our building known as The Terraces in Nassau, Bahamas. This project is an Exclusive Oceanfront Residential Development which will cater to the family or individual living needs, hence why we choose European Windows to grace our condominiums. Not only does it provide security and safety but it also stands for quality and luxury.

As such we have found in this product a combination of grace and elegance combined with practicality, use-ability, safety and is structurally compatible for our intended purpose, especially since we belong to a chain of islands that are affected by natural disasters such as Hurricanes.

The process of installing this product, as we have found is easy to follow since its' installation process is taught on site with the first delivery of your first purchase order, and the trainer oversees each and every installation on that visit. So it is not difficult from an on site training seminar perspective to train your own staff as to the correct technique to installing this product. It has also been our experience that maintenance of these products is relatively minimal outside of the ordinary doors and windows and this is no ordinary product.

We therefore have no regrets in recommending European Windows as a quality product that would suit the needs of any new home-owner, home contractor or developer.

Kind regards,

Ms Ria Smith
